Administrative History

The Hoosiers Historical Institutes were offered for college credit through the extension division of the Indiana State Teachers College, now Indiana State University. These institutes were sponsored by Indiana University, Purdue University, Ball State Teachers College, Indiana State Department of Education, Indiana Department of Commerce and Public Relations and the Indiana Historical Bureau.

Dr. Ross F. Lockridge was the director of the program and the instructor for first few Institutes. Due to failing health, he was unable to continue.

Helen C. Augspurger was born in Woodburn, Allen County, Indiana to Joseph and Zola C. Augspurger in 1903. She had a younger sister, L. Kathryn. She taught for 45 years and was active in many teacher organizations and as a volunteer at the Veterans Administration Medical Center, achieving the Jefferson award. She was the class secretary of the first institute, attended most of the others and was coordinator for the program in Fort Wayne, Indiana. She retired in 1966 and died in San Antonio, Texas on Dec. 3, 2006 at the age of 103. She is buried in the Indiana Order of Odd Fellows Cemetery, New Haven, Allen County, Indiana.

J. William Ball was at one time President of the Cass County Historical Society.
